INTRODUCTION

Designing a home means much more than choosing furniture or painting walls – it's a creative process that preserves personality and atmosphere. Colors, materials and textures play a crucial role in how we feel in a space, how they affect our mood, and how they turn rooms into places of well-being.

This color and material planner is designed as a practical tool to help you collect your ideas, organize them, and put them into structure. It accompanies you from your first inspiration to the final design and gives you space for notes, sketches, color samples and planning details.

Whether you want to transform a single room or renovate your entire home – with clear plans for colors, materials, timelines and tasks, you'll always keep track.

At the same time, you have the freedom to be creative, try out combinations and take step-by-step action to create your personal living environment.

Let this planner inspire you, use it as your idea storage and planning aid – and make your living spaces visible.

COLOR PALETTE PLANNER

Colors are much more than just a color on the wall – they are the foundation of a mood, a personality and the feeling of well-being. Every nuance tells its own story: a soft beige creates a sense of warmth; a fresh green brings nature into the home; a deep blue provides calm and depth. Put together, the right color choice creates a special place in every room.

A color and material planner is a creative helper to guide you in collecting your ideas, organizing them, and turning them into structure. It accompanies you from the initial inspiration to the final design and gives you space for notes, sketches, color samples and planning details.

Use the sections in this planner to record your color ideas, design moods and visions for every room. At the same time, it helps you stay focused on the big picture and capture the details that make your home truly yours – or create a harmonious home that feels just right.

Let this planner be your companion, to capture your ideas and give your home the look and feel you've always imagined – and make your living spaces visible, balanced and wonderful.
